

Quaker Cottage Belfast currently have vacancies for one year volunteer internships.

Sitting on the mountain overlooking Belfast, Quaker Cottage is a cross-community family support day centre serving mothers and their children in the divided communities of North and West Belfast, areas that are among the most deprived in all of the Europe.

This is intensely personal work. When our mums hand their children over to us they not only trust that we will keep them safe but that we will love them like our own.

The primary job of our volunteers? To love the children of the families we work with and make sure they and their mums know it.

Volunteer

to be part of something...

life Changing

As part of a dedicated and professional childcare team, you will be making a profound difference in the lives of those in real need. Accommodation, transport and allowances are provided.

Take the opportunity to be part of a service that will change the lives of those you support, set in a truly unique part of the world.
